FOREWARD

The Merrillvues of the past have in a striking way reflected the growth and development of our high school. If the nineteen forty-seven Merrillvue adequately represents the Merrillville High School of today, both in spirit and in fact, and if in addition it is able, rather by its attempt than by its success, to serve as some inspiration to succeeding staffs, it will quite fully have fulfilled its purpose.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

We are living in an age in which Democracy vs. Communism is the discussion of the day.

The quality of democracy in any community is measured by the total contributions made by individuals in their cooperative efforts to attain accepted democratic goals.

The individual contribution is the result of the degree of feeling he has for community welfare, and the satisfaction he has in his participation in creating the community.

If Democracy, with its emphasis upon the dignity of the individual, is to grow and endure, it is up to each high school graduate to do his part in making democracy work more effectively.

With this conflict facing every boy and girl who graduates from our high school this year, I hope to see each one of you prove that you have a wide base of participation and influence and will prove you are a worthy citizen of so great a democratic country. This will remove the eye of suspicion from each one of you, and our country can hold its place of dignity throughout the world.

A MESSAGE FROM THE STAFF

During the past four years, we have amassed various ideals and experiences that we feel will be the embers of a lasting remembrance. We will proudly look back to the days when we carried our books through the halls of M. H. S., and, no doubt, we will smile.

We have tried, and we hope with some success, to transfer a few of those lasting moments into this annual. We can never relive that which is past, but we can recall it as often as we like. It is our hope that you will treasure this book as a sanctuary of that which has been so near to you during this past year. In future years, we ask only that you turn these pages of photographs once in a while and let them revert to you those glorious days of 1947.

As for us, we have only to say that we will never forget Merrillville, and you, we hope, will always remember us.

MESSAGE FROM THE FACULTY

Books—can we underestimate their value? In them we find the record of human growth and achievement from the dawn of history to the present. Through them we can spread valuable scientific knowledge which would otherwise be withheld from the masses of people. Through the door opened by them we may enter the imaginary world of fiction, and experience vicariously deep emotion and the thrill of adventure. And, most important of all, from them we glean the thoughts of man, his philosophy, his spiritual longings and religious beliefs. This whole world of ideas is ours for the seeking.

No other animal has ever written a book—not even the most intelligent of them. Books are a living testimony to the immortality of man's soul.

This little year-book—will it not serve to recall many happy days otherwise forgotten?

DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of 1947, dedicate this annual to our sponsors, Mr. Loren R. Carrier and Mr. Floyd K. McCutchan. We hope this book will serve as a simple reminder to them of the appreciation and thanks for the many things they have done for us during our Junior and Senior years.

It is with sincere feeling that we say,
"Thanks, Mr. Carrier and Mr. McCutchan."

"CLASS OF 1947 HISTORY"

It all started with a group of innocent young children in a brave battle against the Essentials of Algebra. The leader of the battle was Fred Titley; Sergeant, Arthur Hollingshead; General's Aide, Patricia Foust; Finance Officer, Patty Yager; since Patty Yager was transferred to a different regiment, Sonia McNair took over as Finance Officer; Messenger, Jack Frazure. Under the competent guidance of the General's Counselors, Miss Charlotte McClure and Mrs. Gladys Miller, they put over a successful bond drive.

As the battle continued with the motto, "We have not yet begun to fight," (this time against English) reinforcements were sent in. The new leader of the battle was Dale Crouch; Sergeant, Karl Steinhaus; General's Aide, Delores Chiado; Finance Officer, Jack Frazure, who was relieved by Leslie Bargfeldt; Messenger, Mary Slingsby. We held our ground under the leadership of Mrs. Gladys Miller and Mr. Leo Luebbehusen.

A year later, signs of victory were beginning to appear. Once more, under the leadership of Fred Titley, the forces were reorganized. Eddie Benoit was that man with three stripes on his sleeve; Anna Marie Strusa, the General's Aide; Sonia McNair, the Finance Officer; Jack Woodland, the Messenger. As the battle against U. S. History raged on, Ed Benoit took over as leader and Ray Franz as Finance Officer. The important victories won were "Cash and Carrie", the Junior Play, "Tropical Cruise," the Junior Dance, and last but not least, the Junior-Senior Prom. This was accomplished through the moral support of Mr. Loren Carrier and Mr. Floyd McCutchan.

We chose J. B. Rice to lead us in our final campaign. His co-officers were Ed Yerga, Sergeant; Esther Davis, General's Aide; and Ray Franz, Finance Officer.

An early victory was the Senior Dance, Nov. 1; the final victory, the Senior Play, "The Campbells Are Coming."

After a successful campaign, all good soldiers were awarded the H. S. D. (High School Diploma).

Mr. Carrier and Mr. McCutchan were again loyal to us throughout this, our final year.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.1 million (Office of National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 85 and over has increased by 0.5 million.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for ageing, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy is based on the following assumptions: (1) that older people are a valuable resource; (2) that older people have the right to live independently and actively; (3) that older people have the right to access the services and support they need; and (4) that older people should be treated with respect and dignity. The strategy is based on the following objectives: (1) to improve the lives of older people; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

PROPHECY

Scene: A cozy little cottage in California owned by Mr. and Mrs. LaVern (Peggy Jenkins) Burkhart. In front of the house is parked a trailer owned by Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Londie Berger) Woodland, who have just completed a sight-seeing tour across the United States, in their family-sized trailer.

Topic of Discussion: What our old classmates are doing now, as told by Jack and Londie.

Time: 1955.

Jack and I are living in New York as he has a splendid position illustrating books for Scott, Foresman and Co., publishers. Just before we left on our trip we saw Adele Homeier; she is the head surgeon at the Lying-In Hospital.

While passing through Pittsburgh, we ran across Arthur Hollingshead and his symphonic orchestra. His talented pianist and wife is none other than Pat Foust.

During a short stop in Washington, D. C., we went to visit Nick Cochran, Secretary of State.

Deciding to take a dip in the Gulf of Mexico, we hopped down to Florida and there, lounging on the sand, we saw Fred Titley, vacationing from his job of Sports columnist for the Boston Herald.

Cutting back up through Kentucky, we passed the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Bob (Esther Davis) Wilkins. Esther is a nurse for their small farm community.

Of course, we couldn't have gone across the country without stopping off at our old Alma Mater, Merrillville High School. Alice Willy has replaced Mrs. Carlton as English teacher.

J. B. Rice, after having graduated from West Virginia University, is trying to rival Coach Englehart's record of wins at Merrillville.

Charlotte Gernenz has opened a large, modern book store adjoining the school.

We ran across Robin Belcher beating it to the cafeteria at noon hour. You see, aside from operating a mechanic shop, he is still trying to obtain a diploma. It seems as though he slept through a couple of years of Economics.

Merrillville is now the proud possessor of a public library which is supervised by Eleanor Tiemann.

Oh yes, before we forget it, Wayne Johnson is playing first trumpet in Art's orchestra.

We bought some eggs along the way at Louise Alexander's chicken farm which she calls 'Clara's Cacklers.' They are wrapped in an issue of the Lake County Gazette. Look who's society editor—Antoinette Klassen.

Esther Klassen is secretary to the famed lawyer of Crown Point, Kenneth Greimann, who runs a motor scooter repair shop on the side.

Jayne and Clarence Smith and Marg (Smith) and Nick Krisko are joint owners of a darling duplex in Gary.

Charlotte Petersen is private secretary to the famed psychoanalyst, Priscilla Newcomb.

Upon leaving the school we dropped into the soda fountain which is located across the street. The hangout for the crowd of happy students every evening is operated by Noreen Ready. Noreen informed us that Ray Franz has just delivered plans for a new type of airplane to the patent office; and that Mrs. (Lois Mitchell) Harris operates a small watch repair shop in Hobart.

By the way, Jack received a letter from Bob Harrigan just before we left New York, postmarked Paris. Bob is touring Europe giving operatic concerts.

PROPHECY

Ed Yerga has taken over Kitchell's Corner and his attendants are known as Yerga's Yeggs. His assistant in his thriving business is Bud Bullock, who is continually tinkering with a rather old model of a car. It seems to be the same type he was driving when we were Seniors. While passing Yerga's Gasoline Station, we saw Harold Hazelett and Professor of Mathematics, Reed Jacobus, refueling for the last lap of their hunting expedition. Harold just recently returned from Africa where he experimented in teaching simple arithmetic to the natives. Upon inquiring about the present drivers of the school buses we were surprised to hear that Virgil Kaiser has coincidentally taken over our old friend Rudy Kaiser's route.

Continuing on to Gary we found Phyllis Achor manager of Goldblatt's Bros. Store. Phil told us that Rich Adler is head bookkeeper at the Gary National Bank.

Driving down Broadway we saw a sign saying, "Cummings' Austin Agency." Upon further inquiry we discovered that Bill is selling Austins to the public. It seems that it took him so long to get rid of his little green Austin that he became very fond of this type of car and decided to go into the business.

Georgianna Covaciu is assisting a lawyer. The lawyer she is private secretary to now is Edwin Christie.

Walking along Broadway window shopping, we spied Rose Marie Coffman all dressed in white. She is a nurse at Mercy Hospital.

Having lost a great deal of time in and about Gary, we hurried toward Chicago. As we passed the Chicago Stadium we saw a sign advertising a roller skating extravaganza. The star was none other than Thelma Downs, the Queen of the Roller Skaters. Her manager, who schedules her appearances, regulates her extra activities, and handles the money is Evelyn Herr. Marjorie Stockwell designs all of her costumes for the various shows.

We drove past the stockyards, and there we stopped to talk to Jack Dick, Alfred Gernenz, and Norbert Saager, who were looking over the various types of stock just shipped in.

On the outskirts of Chicago we stopped at a tiny tearoom managed by Shirley Smith and Dorothy Douthett. Having quenched our thirst, we hurried on our way.

We hopped up to Wisconsin, planning to spend a few days at a resort of some kind. Lo and behold the first one we came upon is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eddy (Martha Jo Lester) Benoit. They have a lovely place—a beautiful lake, trees, and cozy cabins. While passing through Kansas City, we stopped for a coke and the shop we stopped in had a radio turned on. The police were asking that anyone knowing the whereabouts of a certain Alfred (Baldy) Smith, the big-time gambler, were to get in touch with them immediately.

While passing through Cheyenne, Wyoming, we stopped off to see the famed Wild West Show, "Frontier Days." Bill Nolan is showing his prize horses in the show and is the featured bareback bronc rider.

We stopped in the middle of a wide desert for a drink of water. There standing all by itself was "Schiessers' Snack Shack" operated by Lorraine, herself.

We saw Dorothy Chentnik at a hotel we stopped at in Reno. She was awaiting the decree for her fourth divorce.

We didn't see anyone else until we turned down your street. Wasn't that Pat Sager we saw shaking her mop out the front door of that house on the corner? She's Mrs. Clarence Wood now, isn't she? Gosh, our old classmates sure are scattered far and wide aren't they?

JUNIOR HISTORY

48th Division

The 48th Division began their military career back in September of 1944. General Bill Purcell and his Aide, James Shaver, were leaders of this Division. Other staff officers were Sergeant, Jack Purcell; Officer of Finance, Marvin Franz; and Messenger, Richard Spiroff.

Military advisors for this initial battle were Mr. Pruitt, Miss Knoop, and Mr. Eddy.

Under a change of leadership, they continued the Battle of Wits through another year. Although no victories are recorded, we must not minimize the importance of this Sophomore campaign. Officers commanding the situation were General Bob Thomas and his Aide, Carole Tonagel; Staff Sergeant, George Brewer; Finance Officer, Marlene Kros; and Messenger, Marjorie Hoepfner; Commander-in-Chief, Mr. Pruitt.

Entering their third year of warfare, the 48th Division again made a change of leadership. Since finances were low, General Marjorie Hoepfner called a meeting of her staff, Aide, Purcell; Sergeant, Borman; and Officer of Finance, M. Kros, to plan a fund raising campaign. This was accomplished through the sale of Pirate pins.

Other important events of the Junior battle were the Class Play, "One Wild Night," the annual Junior Dance, and the Junior-Senior Prom.

Much of their success in this campaign was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Lester and Mr. Pruitt.

SOPHOMORE HISTORY

49th Division

The 49th Division was mobilized in September, 1945. Their military personnel were as follows: General, Bob Kraft; General's Aide, Bob Reichanadter; Staff Sergeant, Bill Phelps; Finance Officer, Mike Senko; and Messenger, Joyce Neff.

Sometime during the campaign, Sgt. Bill Phelps was transferred to another regiment (Crown Point High). Diego Perez was then promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant.

This valiant struggle in the "Battle of Wits" was rewarded by one important victory, a very successful class party.

Military advisers for the first year were Mr. J. R. Browning and Mrs. Irene Collins.

During their 1946 campaign, the 49th Division operated under the leadership of General Corrine McLaverty. Her Aide was Raymond Clements; Staff Sergeant, Mary Woodland; Finance Officer, Andy Mital; and Messenger, Delores Nearing. Again, one officer was transferred. This time Michael Senko replaced Andy Mital as Finance Officer.

Although the forces fought hard, no important victories were recorded, so we assume it must have been a very even struggle.

"Forty-niners" looked to Mrs. Carlton, Mrs. Collins, and Mr. Needham for moral support during this year of battle.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Once a week during the past year, the Student Council, the governing body of the school, met with the faculty representative, Mr. Claude V. York, to discuss the various activities and social functions of the school.

Throughout the year dances and movies, enjoyed by all, were sponsored. Also, several exchange programs were arranged. A new system was inaugurated in which some entertainment was provided once each week on rotating days and periods. Since no activity was provided, we felt that this would be the best plan.

The Council is composed of the presidents of the clubs and classes, the editor of the Mirror, the editor of the Merrillvue, and a member of the student body elected by popular vote. The officers for the year were: Fred Titley, President; Edward Yerga, Vice-President; Marjorie Hoeppner, Secretary; Corrine Mac Laverty, Treasurer; and Patsy Foust, Reporter.

MIRROR STAFF

Of all the organizations in any high school, probably none affords more pleasure than does the school paper. Our paper, The Mirror, is published every three weeks, bringing the news and views of the school to the public eye.

Miss Ruth Inbody, our sponsor, should receive an ample share of the credit for the success of the paper. She was the guiding hand at all times. Raymond Franz, the editor, also deserves much of the credit, along with his assistants, Patsy Foust and Julie Ann Wentland.

The staff is composed of twenty students who gave their all to give you a good paper. Their resourcefulness and willingness are not to be overlooked when looking into the Mirror.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY

The Sunshine Society is a state society, founded in Crawfordsville High School in 1901. Its object and purpose is best expressed in the Creed:

With love in my heart, forgetting self, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my own life become rich and complete.

The organization has grown until it is made up of 218 societies with a total membership of more than 15,000 girls. The state convention, district convention, summer camp, and state project of annual donations to the Riley Hospital are now established traditions.

The Merrillville chapter was organized March 29, 1938. The presiding officer this year was Pat Foust; Vice-President, Lois Mitchell; Recording Secretary, Julie Ann Wentland; Corresponding Secretary, Antoinette Klassen; Treasurer, Roleen Clark; Reporter, Charlotte Gernenz.

SENIOR HI - Y

The Merrillville Hi-Y club have truly carried out the ideals of the Hi-Y, to "Create, Maintain, and Extend throughout school and community high standards of Christian character." Under the most able leadership of Mr. Floyd McCutchan, their director, the boys have ventured to conferences in Kokomo, LaPorte, and Michigan City.

The enrollment was increased from twenty-four boys in 1946 to thirty-six in 1947. Hi-Y activities varied from selling pop-corn at basketball games to displaying their talents in the minstrel show given for the P. T. A. carnival.

JUNIOR HI - Y

The Junior Hi-Y was organized this year to give the Freshman and Sophomore boys an opportunity to do some preliminary work in the Hi-Y field. They follow the same principles as the Senior Hi-Y, and are equally as earnest in their work. When the boys reach their Junior year, they will graduate into the Senior Hi-Y, an accomplishment to look forward to.

It was the boys good fortune to have as their sponsor, Mr. Richard Demaree, who did a great deal for their organization. The officers for the year were: Melvin Marshall, President; Bob Reichanader, Vice-President; Jack Sims, Treasurer; James Thompson, Sergeant at Arms; John Shuttleworth, Reporter.

TRI - EP

A formal initiation was held on October 29, 1946, to introduce the new members into the club.

This year the club boasts a membership of twenty farm boys, all of whom must be living on the farm, taking Vocational Agriculture, and be voted in by two-thirds of its membership. The chief activities of the club this year were a broadcast over WLS on the Farm and Home Hour and the District Meeting being held here at Merrillville High School on March 11, in which ten schools from North Western Indiana participated. G. A. A.

The girls' Athletic Association is a national organization for all girls who are interested in participating in sports. In such a club, the principal of a "sound mind in a sound body" is the predominant idea. By participating in games and various sports, a better code of living is achieved and we learn sportsmanship and the necessity for quick, accurate thinking. The knowledge can be carried over into all school and home activities.

During the year, various sport programs are carried out. Girls are given points for participation inside and outside of school. Numerals, letters, state plaques, and sweaters, are awarded to girls earning a required number of points.

Sports for which points may be given are softball, speedball, basketball, bowling, hiking, swimming, ping-pong, volleyball, and dancing.

Under the leadership of the sponsor, Mrs. Leah Lester, and the president, Marjorie Stockwell, the G. A. A. is progressing very well.

SPORTS CLUB

Among the new clubs instituted this year was the Sports Club. The apparent need for the organization and the interest in it were the main reasons for its beginning. The club itself is to teach the students the real meaning of the words, Loyalty, Leadership, and Sportsmanship. A number of interesting meetings were planned, and it is easily seen that they were successful. Their sponsor was Coach Englehart, and who should know better the ideals of the club than he? Through the efforts of their sponsor and the president, Danny Molchan, the club did exceedingly well for its first year.

CAMERA CLUB

As a hobby, photography has no superior. Its possibilities for interest to young and old are practically unlimited. It provides one of the best means of enjoyment and at the same time creates a permanent record of incidental as well as important events.

With this hobby, as with many others, one gets the most out of it when clubbing together to pool ideas and experiences, to hold contests, exhibitions, and exchanges of prints, and to hear talks and see demonstrations.

For the sake of convenience, the club was divided into two groups, the Senior group, and the Junior group. The sponsors were: Mr. Frank Pruitt for the senior group, and Mr. Phillip Needham for the junior group. Senior club officers: President, Harry Davis; Vice-President, Bob Harrigan.

ACAPELLA CHOIR

Viewed from the educational as well as the entertainment standpoint, Merrillville chorus can well be said to have been one of the most outstanding features of our school this past year.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Hilmer Jacobson, the chorus performances were as follows: November 8th, 1946, the chorus exchanged entertainment with Crown Point High. Needless to say, both visiting groups were appreciated and well received. At Christmas time, a program of carols was given. Sometime later, the chorus took part in a concert given by the school band. On March 30th, 1947, the chorus sang at Central Baptist Church in Gary, and on April 15, 1947, at the State District Convention, which was held at New Carlisle, Indiana.

Their concluding performance was given at Baccalaureate services on the last Sunday before Commencement.

BAND

The band this year consists of thirty-nine members, and although the organization is small, it is continuing to grow each year. In a few years we hope to have an enrollment equal to that of other major schools in this vicinity.

Under the capable direction of Mr. Hilmer Jacobson, who was for a time the director of the Gary Municipal Chorus, the students in band are acquiring a growing interest in music.

Again this year, as has been the custom in the past, the Band Boosters have helped to furnish the organization with instruments and uniforms. This was accomplished by the Tag Day Drive. A great deal of the credit for the band's success should go to them.

Fred Titley, Art Hollingshead, Robert Harrigan, and Wayne Johnson, all members of the Senior Class, received awards for being in the band four years or longer.

the 1990s, the number of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia has increased in the United Kingdom (Meltzer 1996). The prevalence of schizophrenia in the United Kingdom is estimated to be 1.2% (Meltzer 1996).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with a diagnosis of schizophrenia. The United Kingdom has a number of national strategies for mental health care, including the 1998 Mental Health Act (MHA) and the 1999 Mental Health Strategy (MHS). FOOTBALL COMES TO MERRILLVILLE

Last fall, for the first time in Merrillville's history, football was inaugurated on its athletic calendar. The team, consisting of twenty-four players, was coached by Mr. Demaree. A lot of thanks and appreciation goes to Coach Demaree from the team and the community for his fine guidance of the team. This, our first football team, was at a considerable disadvantage by having no previous experience, no home field, and no spring training.

I am sure the community will be patient for a time, at least, until our playing facilities match those of our opponents. With the proper equipment and a little time, we feel sure that Merrillville will go to the top in football as it has in other sports.

It matters little whether the team won or lost. It does show, however, that the scoring power was always there. In the six games that the team played the boys showed that they had courage and fight and a will to win.

In the next few years, we hope to see Coach Demaree's ragged cadets transformed into a hard hitting precision ball club. At any rate, time will tell.

FOOTBALL INDIVIDUALS

COACH: Coach Demaree is the one man responsible for growing interest in football. He has brought the game to us, and he has taught us the meaning of the word, "fight." We are confident that he will make the football team equally as famous as the basketball team.

BUD BULLOCK: A capable guard and quarterback, who packed plenty of fight for his size. Bud was one of the fastest men on the squad and used his speed to great advantage.

BILL NOLAN: Bill saw a little action during the season, but his willingness is one of the things that makes a team great.

HAROLD HAZELETT: A senior, and the heaviest of the tackles. Hazelett threw his weight at the right side of the line, and was always in there when he was needed most.

ART HOLLINGSHEAD: Senior tackle, whose motto was "HOLD OR ELSE", and fulfill that motto was just what he did. His wit and humor often pulled the boys through some of those tough spots!

WAYNE JOHNSON: During the year, Wayne was used mainly for defense. He stopped them when the "chips were down." In the Lowell game, he received an eye injury, but it didn't seem to hurt his style of play.

ED YERGA: A senior, who played right halfback. During the latter part of the season, he took over as co-captain and called the plays. Ed was a valuable team man and was always out to win.

FRED TITLEY: Senior, served as co-captain, and shared honors at left end. Fred was a valuable man at all times and was the fastest of the ends.

ED BENOIT: A hard running back and linebacker. Ed saw little action after a back injury retired him from play. During the first part of the season, he called signals and served as captain.

RONALD HAYES: An outstanding end and probably the outstanding player on the team. His technique was unequaled when it came to catching passes. He will be missed greatly next year.

CANNONBALL: Thompson was always right there when he was needed—water bucket and all. During the season he was Coach's right-hand-man. Next season he hopes to be out there in a uniform.

MARY WOODLAND, MARJORIE STOCKWELL, JOYCE HANCOCK, PATT FOUST: If cheerleading won ball games, we would have won every game. Football cheerleading was new to the girls, but they came through with flying colors and plenty of yells. They then continued on the basketball floor as second-team cheerleaders.

BASKETBALL HISTORY OF 1947

This year's team was one of Coach Englehart's best in his ten years of coaching at Merrillville. Its winning combination consisted of speed, aggressiveness, accuracy, and determination.

This season was high-lighted by that astonishing win over Griffith in the Christmas Tourney, the sound defeat of Hammond Noll, and the revenge wins over Gary Edison and Hobart. Probably this team possessed the most balanced scoring power of any of the Merrillville teams. The varsity won the Lake-Porter Conference Trophy this year for the first time since they tied Gary Edison for it in 1945. They dropped their first game in the sectional to Whiting by a score of forty-eight to thirty-six, which wasn't bad at all. The Pirates also were tied with Kouts for first place in the Calumet Minor Standings. With a fine record of eighteen wins and four losses accomplished this year, the Pirates are looking forward to an even better season next year. Long may the Merrillville Pirate's Championship Flag wave.

BASKETBALL INDIVIDUALS

DAVID JOHNSTON: Sophomore center and a regular all season. Dave was one of the best rebound men on the team. He should prove his worth in future seasons.

BOB THOMAS: Cuppie has been an important man all season, for a Junior, he played a lot of basketball. We remember him, especially, for that last second goal in the Griffith game.

WAYNE JOHNSON: Senior forward, and a veteran of two years on the varsity squad. Although he saw little action during the year, his ability was never doubted, as he proved in the Hebron game.

LAVERN BURKHART: A fine ball-handler, and all-round ball player. He saw a great deal of action during the season and was right there at the right time.

BOB KRAFT: Sophomore forward, and one of our most dependable players all season. Bob is a fine rebound man and will, no doubt, be one of Coach's best men next year.

KENNY GREIMANN: No member of the team had more spirit than he, or showed it more often. The team will be sorry to lose him next year.

FILL PURCELL: Bill is one of the finest ball players that we have seen in some time. He is equally skilled in dribbling, guarding, or shooting. His one-hand push shot brought him the scoring honors for the season. Bill will, no doubt, be the team's main stay next season.

J. B. RICE: Captain of the team, expert play-maker, high-scorer, and cool-headed ball-handler are just a few of Rice's fine qualities. His consistent scoring power kept us out in front at all times.

JACK PURCELL: Jack made up the other half of the Purcell combination. He is a cool, conscientious ball player, a dead shot, and a master at dribbling. Watch for him next year.

ARLEN MOHLER: Arlen is a promising play-maker, and is as tricky as they come. His driving power should come in handy next year.

RONALD HAYES: Ronnie's height came in handy many times during the season, and his basket always came in at the right time. Remember the Lowell game when he put us back in the lead with only a few minutes to go?

BILL WILSON: This was Bill's first year with us, and we were glad to have him. His ability and aggressiveness were typical of the Merrillville team.

GEORGE BREWER: A nice ball handler and fine guard. Brewer came in handy more than once during the season and will be back for more action next year.

HOWARD WOJOHN — DOUGLAS WEITBROCK: During the year, the boys kept themselves busy doing things "behind the scenes" that help to make a team successful.

COACH: Mr. Englehart is recognized as one of the best coaches in the state. A one-time champion himself, Coach now spends his time building the champions-to-be. His teams are always tough and fast and seem to have that extra something that is essential for victory.

PAT SHEARER — EDDIE BENOIT — MARTHA JO LESTER: Probably no group of cheerleaders ever put more into their yells than did Eddie's crew. Win or lose, they gave it all they had.

SECOND TEAM

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 15.5 million by 2020, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 8.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of older people, and to ensure that they are able to live independently and actively in their own homes for as long as possible. This has led to a number of initiatives, including the development of age-friendly communities, and the establishment of age-friendly networks.

Age-friendly communities are communities that are designed to be accessible and inclusive for older people. They are communities that offer a range of services and facilities that meet the needs of older people, and that encourage them to participate in community life. Age-friendly networks are networks of organizations and individuals that work together to promote the well-being of older people.

The purpose of this paper is to explore the role of age-friendly communities and age-friendly networks in promoting the well-being of older people. We will first describe the concept of age-friendly communities, and then discuss the role of age-friendly networks. We will then discuss the challenges of developing age-friendly communities and age-friendly networks, and finally we will discuss some of the ways in which these challenges can be addressed.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's health and social care. The strategy is based on the principle of 'active ageing', which is the process of optimising the health and well-being of older people.
